Objet : Appel à candidature pour le projet UNESCO-YCD

J'ai l'honneur de vous informer que l'UNESCO a émis un Appel à candidature pour le projet UNESCO-YCD.

L'objectif principal de ce projet s'inscrit dans le cadre des efforts déployés par l'UNESCO pour renforcer les capacités dans les domaines des sciences fondamentales et de l'ingénierie, et ce, dans le cadre du projet UNESCO-UNITRAIN de développement des compétences des jeunes (projet YCD de l'UNESCO). Cette édition 2023 n'est ouverte qu'aux étudiants de premier cycle et aux étudiants de troisième cycle. Le dépliant de souscription n'est disponible qu'en anglais.

La date limite de dépôt des candidatures est fixée au 30 septembre 2023.

Je vous saurais gré des dispositions utiles que vous voudrez bien faire prendre en vue d'en assurer une large diffusion

2023 Future Designer International Innovation Design Awards (IIDA) & Science for SDGs Innovation Contest

The 2023 Future Designer International Innovation Design Awards (IIDA) & Science for SDGs Innovation Contest will solicit innovation and creative works from young people around the world to raise awareness of and advocate for the important role of Science, Engineering and STEM in achieving the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).

1. Organizers

The IIDA is co-organized by UNESCO and the Organizing Committee of Future Designers International Innovation Design Awards & Science for SDGs Innovation Contest, carried out by the UNESCO-UNITRAIN Youth Competence Development Project, supported by the Organizing Committee of National College Digital Art & Design Awards (NCDA).

2. Important dates

Deadline for submissions : 30 September 2023
Review of entries and jury deliberations: 01 – 30 October 2023
Announcement of the winners: 31 October 2022
Award Ceremony: early December 2023

3. Eligibility criteria

The IIDA welcomes the participation of young people from around the world. However, for this first edition in 2023, the IIDA is exclusively open to college and university students.
In China, only award-winning works of NCDA are eligible to participate.

4. Eligible entries

We welcome a diverse range of works that advocate Science for the SDGs. These include but are not limited to, posters, videos, GIFs, illustrations, games, apps, interactive designs, as well as sustainable designs such as products, automobiles, packaging, decorations, fashion, architecture, interior design, landscape design, and public art. Entries are categorized into four distinct categories: media design, product design, environmental design, and art & science.

5. Application procedure

Participation in the IIDA is free of charge. To apply, please fill out the form provided below, ensuring that it is packaged alongside the corresponding work file within a compressed ZIP file. The ZIP file must be labelled as "artist + work title + country.zip". Please submit your comprehensive application via email to the addresses iida@unitrain.org and iida@ncda.org.cn.

6. Entry requirements

The requirements for entries are as follows :

Still Images : Format: JPG, Resolution: 300 dpi, Size: Not less than A3, Maximum of 5 pictures in JPG format for each work.

Video: MP4, Resolution: HD, Duration: Not exceeding 8 minutes, File size: Not exceeding 500 MB.

For other requirements, please refer to the 2023 IIDA website, iida.unitrain.org and iida.ncda.org.cn .

7. Certificate

Winners will be presented with a certificate jointly issued by UNESCO and IIDA. IIDA and UNESCO will promote the works of the winners on social media. All of the winners will be invited to attend the award ceremony held in Shanghai, China in early December 2023.
